Dear Mrs Williams,

I was totally overwhelmed by the reception given to my old piano by so many people! - and in such a very delightful and unusual way.

The scrapbook was handed to me at my 83rd birthday party by my son Mark, who is really the one responsible for the piano coming to your school, as it has been in his house for some years. I just hope it won't be a disappointment, either in tune or tone, as it's been moved about so much and expectations are obviously very high!

Anna A. and Luke Spencer wondered how the piano survived the way so I've enclosed an explanatory note; perhaps you would pass it on to them.

I hope everyone will enjoy using the piano and thank all who contributed to the scrapbook very much indeed - it was one of my best birthday presents.

Yours sincerely,

Elizabeth Rolph.
